Characterization And Topological Rigidity Of Nobeling Manifolds

classification and characterization of topological ... - classification and characterization of topological insulators and superconductors by roger mong doctor of philosophy in physics university of california, berkeley professor joel e. moore, chair topological insulators (tis) are a new class of materials which, until recently, have been overlooked despite decades of study in band insulators. topological insulator growth and characterization - topological insulator growth and characterization nicholas ross meyer iowa state university follow this and additional works at:<https://lib.dr.iastate.edu> part of the electrical and electronics commons topological characterization of cyclic structures - the sum of the topological distances in the molecular graph (the wiener number) is used for a topological characterization of the condensed polycyclic molecular systems. this topological index discriminates well the isomeric cyclic molecules. in addition, it also properly reflects their structural features. fabrication and characterization of topological insulator ... - topological metallic surface states are predicted to have numerous properties that are useful for spintronics and quantum computation. 1,2 a challenging aspect of this research has been to isolate surface state contributions to the measured properties of topological insulators. 3-7 studying nanometer characterization and design of topological boundary modes ... - characterization and design of topological boundary modes via generalized bloch's theorem fifth conference on nuclei and mesoscopic physics 6-10 march 2017 michigan state university . challenge: to fully characterize nature and implications of topological quantum matter. characterization of  $Bi_2Te_3$  and  $Bi_2Se_3$  topological ... - characterization of  $Bi_2Te_3$  and  $Bi_2Se_3$  topological insulators grown by mbe on (001) GaAs substrates xinyu liu) department of physics, university of notre dame, notre dame, indiana 46556 david j. smith department of physics, arizona state university, tempe, arizona 85287 helin cao and yong p. chen a characterization of fuchsian actions by topological rigidity - a characterization of fuchsian actions by topological rigidity kathryn mann and maxime wolff abstract. we prove that any rigid representation of  $\tilde{G}$  in  $Homeo_+(S)$  with euler number at least  $g$  is necessarily semi-conjugate to a discrete, faithful representation into  $PSL(2; \mathbb{R})$ . combined with earlier work of matsumoto, this pre- a proof of thurston's topological characterization of ... - thurston's topological characterization 267 definition. the teichmüller space  $T_f$  is the teichmüller space modelled on  $(S^2, \rho_f)$ . remarks. (a) of course,  $T_f$  could be identified with  $T_{0,p}$ , but we will need functorial topological characterization of periodically driven ... - topological characterization of periodically driven quantum systems takuya kitagawa, erez berg, mark rudner, and eugene demler physics department, harvard university, cambridge, massachusetts 02138, usa topological characterization of periodically-driven ... - the characterization of periodically driven systems in terms of the topological structure of floquet operators constitutes the major result of this paper. this approach provides a natural description of topologically-quantized pumping, and reveals a simple and intuitive picture in which to understand this phenomenon. furthermore, the
